Dear Mr Rutter

Quality Award in Careers Education, Information, Advice and Guidance (CEIAG)

I am delighted to tell you that the Quality Award Accreditation Board met on 9th December 2016 and unanimously agreed that Outwood Academy Brumby should be accredited with the Quality Award, which recognises the high standard of your careers provision. It is a real achievement, and I know how much hard work Julie Taylor put in, so many congratulations.

The Accreditation Board noted some examples of excellent practice, including the promotion of high aspirations for all, and the provision and quality of display material throughout the institution. The Board also agreed with the positive comments from the Assessor regarding the support for CEIAG from the senior leadership team, and how this contributes to making sure that careers work is embedded firmly into the life of the academy.

You may also like to know that the Quality Award meets the exacting validation criteria of the national Quality in Careers Standard. This Award stands for 3 years until December 2019.

We will be arranging for the Award certificate to be produced shortly, and will also email the Quality Award logo and the Quality in Careers Standard logo to Julie, which can be used on school paperwork and on your website.

Once again, many congratulations on the Award and thanks to all staff and students for their participation.

Yours sincerely

Sue Thacker
